The opening competition was between the President and Vice-President which was won by the president's side score being 68-44.

REPORT OF LAST BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

The Gleichen Board of Trade held a luncheon followed by a business meeting, which was very well attended and which dealt with a great deal of business concerning the winter activities. The centre of its discussion was the Old Timers' Ball sponsored by the Gleichen Board of Trade, which has become to be a great annual affair. The Flour Mill which is being erected in Gleichen at the present time was the subject of consideration and it was decided that the Board of Trade would heartily endorse the new enterprise and also endeavour to promote the flour mill business of Gleichen and district in order to justify the building of such an industrial enterprise at Gleichen.

Following the regular business meeting Rev. Davies addressed the Board of Trade on his experiences in the near east during the war time under the high command of General Allenby. The address was very much to the point, interesting to all and greatly appreciated.

It was announced that the speaker at the next Board of Trade luncheon to be held December 14th would be W. Sutermeister. The subject of his address will be "Switzerland as an International centre."

Various other matters were discussed, closing a most interesting session of the Gleichen Board of Trade. Surest harbingers of a fast-approaching Yuletide, more than two million Japanese oranges have reached the Prairies in refrigerator cars of the Canadian National Railways. The first consignment of these golden emblems of Christmas happiness consisting of 25 carloads, with fourteen cars billed for distribution from cities in Western Canada and eleven from Ontario centres. Further consignments of Japanese oranges will arrive in Vancouver from the Orient on December 7th and will comprise more than 65 carloads.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S ENTERTAINMENT GREAT SUCCESS

The concert presented under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Gleichen in the United Church last Friday evening proved to be very successful. The church was fairly well filled with local people from both town and district. The program was completed shortly after 8:30 and was composed of musical selections, plays, songs and readings, etc.

The Society was well paid for its efforts, the receipts of $20.75 being received from admission.

The success of the entertainment is attributed largely to the work of the program committee, Miss Van Vukenburg, Betty Kelly, Virginia Taylor and the splendid co-operation of the Society.

The Young People's Society conducted the service in the United Church Sunday evening, immediately following which they held their weekly meeting. At the conclusion of the business part of the program, Mr. Gorrill addressed the meeting on the subject of "Present Day English Writers" introducing as his literary characters Rudyard Kipling and H. B. Wells. Mr. Gorrill's talk created a keen interest among the members of the Society and was greatly appreciated. It is anticipated that Mr. Gorrill will again address the Society. People at their next meeting, which will be held at the conclusion of the service next Sunday evening in the United Church. All young people of the town and district are cordially invited.

FIRST HOCKEY GAME OF SEASON SATURDAY NIGHT

Next Saturday evening the first hockey game to take place in Gleichen this year will be played, when the Calgary Distributors and the Gleichen Gunners go into action. The Gleichen boys are out practising every night and are going in great style.

Monday enough players were out to make up two teams and as a consequence all the players had a dandy work out. For Saturday evening the Gunners will line up as follows: Goal, Roberts; Taylor and Marquette, defence; forwards, Simpson, Bulmer, McKay, C. Brown, Norton, T. Brown and G. Rishaug. The admission charge to the game will be 25c. and children 10c. It is hoped that every body who possibly can will turn out and give their support.

Jack Roberts has his upper lip split open Monday night while stopping a hot one, a couple of stitches were required to close the wound.

The prices paid for produce are considerably higher than they were some few weeks ago; eggs are selling from 35 to 40 cents, while a short time ago the price was 15 cents per dozen and lower. Dairy butter prices are 20 to 25 cents, while during October they sank as low as 10 cents and 15 cents per pound. More cows are being milked in the district than ever and many farmers are resorting to mixed farming. It is anticipated that with the rise in the price of wheat other produce will bring better returns as well. Many farms are also branching out in live-stock; vealing calves as well as getting hogs ready for market. It is generally felt that the presence of a flour mill in Gleichen will have the effect of encouraging mixed farming since a great deal of feed products will be available locally saving freight and additional handling charges to the purchaser. Generally speaking winter has not been very severe as yet.

Bob Brown who is at present playing hockey for Seattle seems to be the star player in that village according to the reports picked up by the local radio fans listening to a Seattle station broadcasted the games played there recently.

Season's Social Event Old-Timers' Ball, Dec. 11

One week from Friday, December 11th, is the date the great annual social event for all old timers of Gleichen and the surrounding district will take place, in the Gleichen Community Hall under the auspices of the Gleichen Board of Trade. This dance will be put on with the same lavish scale as were the former dances. The dance will be opened in the old fashion style with a grand march beginning sharp at 9 p.m. So be on hand early to enjoy the fun. The ladies are now busy discussing the occasion while the men are getting their glad rags into presentable condition.

The various committees in charge of the Old Timers' Ball on December 11th, are now all hard at work and daily accomplishing splendid results on their lines.

While one and all are invited to attend several hundred invitations have been sent out and already the indications are that several real old-timers from a distance will be present, who have not attended the previous occasions.

For those who cannot dance every dance there will be plenty of time to meet your old friends and talk the good old days all over once more—live it over.

The intention is to make this dance the best of all its predecessors and those who miss it will have cause for regret.

MEETING MONDAY TO DISCUSS ZONING BY-LAW

The council of the Town of Gleichen are calling a meeting in the Community Hall on Monday evening, December 7th, at the hour of 8 o'clock, for the purpose of explaining and hearing any objections to the zoning by-law.

The purpose of this by-law is to regulate the erection, location and the use of buildings and the use of land to limit the height of buildings, to prescribe building lines and the size of yards and other open spaces within the town.

The town will be divided into five classes of districts: residential, commercial, industrial, agricultural and park areas. Certain restrictions are applicable to each class of district and the class of building to be erected.

This by-law has been drafted by the Town Planning Board of the Province and it is along the same lines as other by-laws that are being presented in several other towns in the province.

A copy of the by-law may be seen at the town office at any time by those interested.

It is hoped that a good attendance will be on hand at the meeting next Monday night.

DR. W. M. GRANT HERE NEXT SUNDAY

"The Magnitude and Marvel of the Work" will be the subject of Dr. Grant's address in the United Church next Sunday at 7:30.

Dr. Grant is an eastern trained minister of the former Presbyterian Church and some years ago came west to accept a charge at Edmonton. He was an ardent unionist and resigned his charge there so that the new Central United Church might be formed. Immediately on the amalgamation of St. Paul's Methodist and Hillhurst Presbyterian congregations Calgary he received a call there. That was in 1920. Next year he was elected president of Alberta Conference and two years later St. Stephen's College, Edmonton, conferred upon the doctor's degree. For the past two years he has been chairman of the conference Missionary and Maintenance Committee, one of the most responsible positions in the conference.

Dr. Grant has made a collection of slides on all phases of the church work and around these he will weave the gospel story.

WM. SMITH, QUEENSTOWN, DIED THURSDAY

The announcement of the death of Wm. Smith, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Williams, Queenstown, early last Thursday morning at the age of 71 years was a surprise to many old timers both in Queenstown and Gleichen district, where he was well-known. Mr. Smith homesteaded in Queenstown in 1907. For some years after he homesteaded he was a frequent visitor to Gleichen and became well acquainted here. In July 1924 his wife died and since then he spent most of his time at the home of his friend Mr. and Mrs. Steve Williams, who live near by. Last summer he had a paralytic stroke but had recovered and was in Gleichen on Remembrance Day. Early Thursday morning he took a second stroke and lived for a few hours only.

He came from Montana to Alberta and located at Claresholm for a time then proceeded to Queenstown where he homesteaded. Mr. Smith was a Mason and was one of the few members of the Gleichen lodge to hold a life membership. He was a member of the U.F.A. He had no children but has a nephew at Vulcan and another in the Peace River country and several relatives in the United States.

The funeral took place Sunday, Nov. 29th, the roads leading into Milo were dotted with cars speeding in to render the last respects to the deceased. The Odd-fellows hall was used for the funeral service, which was conducted by Rev. J. R. Davies, Rector of St. Andrews, Gleichen. In support were over 50 members of the Masonic Order of which the deceased was a highly respected member.

The service at the hall was sympathetically carried out according to the rites of the Church of England by Mr. Davies, who is chaplain of the Gleichen Lodge 36 G.R.A. Previous to the opening of the service the assembled brethren formed in procession under the direction of W.M. A. G. B. Lewis, director of ceremonies, with a full list of officers preceding Bro. W. Durstun bearing the volume of the Sacred Law, in advance of Rt. Wor. Bro. A. R. Yates, acting master of Gleichen Lodge, who deposited on the casket a beautiful floral tribute of red and white roses.

A congregation of over 300 people followed the service reverently, and fully appreciated the sympathetic and thoughtful address of Mr. Davies. A special choir led the singing of appropriate hymns.

At the conclusion of the service in the hall, the last rites, according to the Church of England, were conducted by the Rector of Gleichen, and the beautiful and impressive Masonic farewell ceremony was carried out under the leadership of W. Bro. A. R. Yates. Over 50 sprigs of evergreen were deposited on the casket in the last farewell to a departed brother, and the stirring words of exhortation to all to meet their latter end fittingly were uttered as the western sun dipped towards the passing of another day.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Williams have been unremitting in their care of deceased, who passed away, at their house which he has looked upon as home for several years. Their kind care smoothed his pathway during the latter years of his earthly journey.

JOHN GLAMBECK EXPERIENCE IN A CITY

(By John Glambeck)

After having sent news from the Milo-Queenstown district, to the Call more or less during the past 20 years I shall now send some from Calgary, where I am staying for a while this winter. Well, Calgary appears to have grown some since the first time I saw it in 1905. The prairie, and west of Eight Avenue, where my gardner and I paid an Indian two-bits for sitting still on his pony while we took his picture, is now pretty well covered with houses and so are the hills on top beyond. In going around taking in the sights I met a policeman and asked him if he could direct me to Red Square. He looked me straight in the eye and said: "Old man if I catch you hanging around that place I will run you in. So I told him that I meant no harm I simply wanted to take a look at the unemployed to see how they were standing the cold weather. Then I decided to go over to the city hall and shake hands with Andy Davidson and congratulate him on his reelection. But outside the mayor's office I met a rather large pompous individual who was either the mayor's secretary or a bouncer. He asked me, what I wanted, and when I told him he said: "that I had better take a walk some where else and that the mayor was too busy to be bothered talking to retired farmers who had no vote anyhow."

One day standing on fourth avenue looking up at the new Eaton building a fellow came along and asked me, what I was gazing at, and said, that in case I wanted to take a share in the Eaton concern I could pay the first installment to him and he would give me a receipt. I told him I would see him later.

Shortly after that, when I stood gazing at a show window on Eighth Avenue, another fellow asked me if I did not want to buy a few hundred dollar bonds in the National Service Loan. I said I would, that the only thing preventing me from doing so was the lack of capital.

Well it looks like the whole business section of Calgary is moving west if they don't look out they will soon run against the hills. The only building of any size built, lately east of Centre Street is the new post office and it is some building too. I still remember the old postoffice, on the same grounds, that also held the Dominion Land Office. Yes, I remember the cold night, in the late fall when I sat on the steps all night, except a few minutes now and then when I would rush over to Chris Bros. for hot coffee and sinkers, so I would be first at the opening of the land office door. Times have changed and at present I would be darned if I would do this over again for any homestead in Southern Alberta.

In the meantime my friends the Jews are still holding down the trade on Eight Avenue, east of the postoffice. I always did take a great pleasure in visiting these second hand emporiums where everything from a fish hook to a threshing machine, can be found. I always did enjoy the situation to offer the dealer just half of what he asked for any article you wanted, and after seeing him wringing his hands in despair claiming it would ruin him, and finally have him come down to your price or split the difference.

QUEER QUINTON'S QUILL

Riots are ugly and those who riot are not in a peaceful frame of mind. Rather madness and war are very close relatives because we cannot have latter without the former. And all peace efforts aim at taking the madness out of life but wherever there is any trace of this insanity peace project must fail.

Great War the Olympian Games were held in Paris and nationalism ran so high that even the athletes fell upon each other and clawed like wild beasts. It was little wonder that many felt like the late Clutton-Brock, "if any nations cannot play together" what hope is there for any form of international life. And if games broke up so uselessly, we are scarcely to be surprised at the disaster that befell the conference. But the fault does not seem to be either in athletics nor the objects of that conference but in the spirit of Paris.

And it is doubtful whether the peace movement has received any set back whatsoever. The incident only shows what the pacifists have always taught that the cause of war is an attitude of mind. The road to peace is a conquest of that better-then-thou spirit and the discovery of that ancient principle that the good of all is the best for each, that no nation or person acquires the best at the expense of another.

Echoes of story-book days on the Western plains will be heard next week at Wainwright National Park when daredevil buffalo hunters make a temporary return to the scenes of their epic deeds. In one immense round-up, 1,500 animals from Canada's great herd of bison at Wainwright Park will be slaughtered to provide Buffalo steaks and fur coats for many Canadians.

The towns people wonder where all the new sweaters came from which appeared on the streets on Saturday, men were going around with their coats open showing same and as proud of them as a lady would be of her new hat, we found out that Ramsays Live Store purchased on Friday night
direct from one of the big sweater houses their complete range of sample sweaters and sold them on Saturday at the factory prices marked right on the tickets. It was a sample of good buying on the part of the customers they certainly took advantage of the opportunity.

Saul Hogg who has been living in the Peace River country for some years past, returned to Gleichen to visit his old time friends for a time.
As usual Saul spent most of his time spilling yarns which all enjoy. For instance he tells of a trained porkupine his mother had. When she wanted apples she would send porky into the orchard for them. The animal would climb an apple tree then shake the apples down. Upon reaching the ground porky would stick his quills up then roll in the apples. "Oh"
says Saul. "He would carry a bushel of apples in the house at a time."

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Haskayne spent

Since the snow fell sleighing has been the rule. There is about six inches on the ground.

Pilot Archie McMullen who was possible freeze up he flew 68 miles north of Fort Smith where he is locat-tention a young lad, who had been shot in the foot with a 30-30 rifle bullet.

Do not forget that on Friday evening December 4th Robert Gardiner, M.P., and president of the United Farmers of Alberta will make an address at the Meadowbrook Hall at 9 o'clock. As Mr. Gardiner is a fluent speaker and will have a worth while

After the address a social evening will be spent.

Ontario's 1932 license plates are black and gray, but a more lively mode has hit plates across the border, according to a survey made by the Automobile Club of Philadelphia. Six states have white on black for their new license tags, six have white on blue, four have black on yellow, four have white on green, three have chosen black on orange, three, black on

them in "The Third Alarm."

During the last few weeks a great deal of cold weather has been experienced in the Gleichen district. The thermometer has been as low as twenty degrees below zero, while some days the temperature has been quite warm. Accompanying the cold a certain amount of snow has fallen and while there is some snow blanket-ing the country yet, it is not very deep.
There has been very little drifting taking place. At present the weather has moderated considerably. So far cattle and horses on the range have not suffered a great deal. They are keeping in good condition and have required very little extra feeding. A certain amount of grain hauling is taking place at the present time. The higher prices of wheat having induced farmers to haul in what surplus wheat they may have.

The Indian hockey boys are practicing on the rink these days and have prospects of a fairly good team this winter.

CORRESPONDENCE

Gleichen, Alta.
Dec. 1st, 1931.

Editor,—
I note with regret that much driving is being done these nights with improper lights which has recently resulted in the loss of life and the destruction of property.

The one clear vision given by poor lights is that of a hospital ward or a cemetery.

The flicker of headlights indicates a poor connection and unless fixed at once will burn the bulbs out.

Loose head light brackets will result in dim lights as they are grounded through the bracket to the chassis.

It doesn't require an electrician to splice and tape a broken wire leading to a tail light. A little—I will power—will fix it.

Let's light up before we are forced to, as it will be less expensive.

Yours, truly,

AN OWL.
